Sinelco has identified that shortcomings in the internal connections of some of the converter plugs incorporated into these products to adapt them for use in UK and Irish sockets may potentially lead to the plug overheating and melting, presenting a risk to users.

Users of the affected hairdryers are asked to stop using their hairdryer immediately and contact the dealer from whom the hairdryer was purchased. Your dealer will confirm whether your product is affected and arrange for a free-of-charge replacement product to be provided.

If you have any queries in relation to this issue, please contact our UK representative on +44(0)845 259 0439 You can also visit www.ultrononline.com.
